Dear Parents and Carers

One of the staff members had head lice a couple of weeks ago, so we all need to be vigilant.

What a wonderful day we had yesterday; perfect weather, a large crowd of supporting family members and our students having a go. I thoroughly enjoyed watching all the events and talking with as many folk as I could, given I was holed up behind the microphone most of the day. Thanks to everyone concerned, especially Mr I am sorry that some parents were given cautions after the athletics carnival. I spoke with a Shire officer and she said parents were not fined, they were cautioned.

We have another spate of head lice and I have sent notes home to each family. Please check your childrens' hair thoroughly and make sure you get rid of the eggs. Marg

The winners of our Book Week “WORK DISPLAY” are: Joseph Butler (A7), Te Oueroa Hoete-Raharaha (C1), Jovic Lana (C6), Kaylee Eades (C6), Kyle Edney (C6), Taylor Lupton (LA1), Taya Woods (A1), Tia Hancock (A1). Congratulations to our Book Week Competition winners. They are Kayla Eades C6, Katherine Martin (Kindy 2), and Kaitlin Hodgson (C4).

All these winners were presented with their prizes at the School Assembly on 12th September.

Well done everyone.

What a treat we had on Wednesday 5th September. Approximately 150 students were entertained by Year 9 Drama students from Swan View Senior High School. Creative performances of four books FLOOD, LOOK! A BOOK, A BUS CALLED HEAVEN and NO BEARS were acted out for us, with some of our own ex-students shining as actors.

I have included some comments made by the audience. Comments: I liked “Look a Book!” because it was very funny. I have never seen a better play in all of my life. Jazzie (B1). I liked “No Bears” because the girl was telling her story and she kept on saying “There are no bears in my story”, but there was a bear all along. Favour Iloh (B1). The most effective play was “No Bears”. It had the most expression in it. Bree Hancock (A1). The most creative play was about the book “Look a Book!” how you had the story being read to us as the story was happening. Very creative! Vanessa Sunjich (A1).

Smith Family, Midland Office, has just confirmed that there exists an additional twenty plus new ‘Learning for Life Scholarships’ for eligible students attending primary schools in our area. These scholarships are awarded to families in need, providing financial support to pay for stationery, excursions and uniforms. Ultimately, the Smith Family aims for all students to have a minimum 90% attendance rate, which demonstrates a commitment to schooling.

Families need to possess a current health/pension card which lists their children. Scholarship forms or information can be obtained by contacting Carrie Standing, Smith Family Midland, on 9274 2223 or by speaking to Marg Dove at the school.

Helping your child with maths

Making maths fun

Dice games: Use two dice to help your child add together small numbers quickly.

Numberplate search: Look for a number plate that has a 1 in it somewhere. Then find a plate with a 2 in it; then 3 and so on. Make it more fun for older children by asking them to add two numbers on the plate together to get numbers greater than 9; or add all the numbers together; or take the smallest one away from the biggest one.

Mystery number; think of a number. Ask your child to guess what it is as you give clues. Perhaps say my number is more than 10 but less than 19. It’s an even number. Sometimes it’s called a dozen.

All B1 students entered a Fathers’ Day colouring competition run by “Real Estate Plus”. Mrs Nind took all the entries to the Midland branch. GENERATION ONE:

We have entered a nation wide competition titled Generation One. We are required to submit a video clip of our students singing ‘Hands Across Australia’ with a few bars of Swan View Rap in the middle of the song. The music provides a back drop for a series of photographs taken of the many special programs occurring around the school and across the year levels. It was very exciting for the students to visit a recording studio recently so that our excellent coral work is picked up through quality technology. Thank you Mr Schoenmakers.
